sharing - the CHURCH'S
Story

Brenden Thompson
CEO OF CATHOLIC VOICES

Why is it important to know how to share the Church's story?

Every Catholic is frequently faced with challenging questions. We all know the stereotypes and misunderstandings that exist about the Church.

Back in 2010, Pope Benedict XVI planned to visit the UK. Catholic Voices was created to answer media interviews, and share the Church's story in a clear, positive light during his visit.

We dream of a Church that can speak to modern culture in clear and compelling way, led by ordinary men and women! Catholic Voices has found a simple combo that makes a world of difference. Find common ground. Look for the positive intention behind the criticism. Stay kind and civil. While we might not win the argument that way, we may win the heart.

In this conference, Catholic Voices and Smart Catholics are teaming up to help lay men and women everywhere to share the Church's story with charity and clarity.

Get the tools and attitudes to develop confidence. Confidence in communicating your faith.

Confidence through making friends with an online community of Catholics worldwide who love their faith, just like you.

CatholicVoices

Catholic Voices began in the UK to improve the Church's representation in the media, above all in news programs and debates. Over 20 CV groups have started in different countries in Europe, the Americas and Australia. In the UK, we have continued to train speakers via our national speakers' training programme selecting and preparing a new team each autumn.

In the last few years we have also trained our speakers to give talks in parishes about the CV method and how to use it to talk about controversial issues involving the Church.

Taking Notes

Print off the note template to copy as many times as you need.

Each talk invites you to highlight a problem that must be addressed. Becoming aware of a problem is the first step to change.

Then identify the goal, the 'promised land,' that we need to get to. What does it look like for you?

Lastly, identify one actionable step you can take today. Perhaps it's a daily moment, or a series of small actions. Small efforts over time feel achievable, and build into progress.

My Notes

Prompts: Highlight a problem. Identify the solution. Decide on an action item.
Use to note your thoughts from workshops, or to remember your speed meetings.
